Christmas Message

from Andy Stevens

1996 has been a relatively successful year for Messier-Dowty Gloucester, especially in terms of winning new work. This is great news for all of us, and makes our futures look more secure. The challenge facing us in 1997 is to improve significantly our efficiency, quality and delivery performance. I know you've heard it all before!

When I look back over the cascade briefings which I have given over the years (and those given by Geoff Smith) I become very aware of themes which come up time and time again – we must improve quality, we must reduce customer complaints, we must reduce warranty, we must improve delivery and we must reduce costs. These themes keep recurring with good reasons.

If we don't improve significantly in these areas, then we won't retain existing business, won't win new business and won't retain the support of our shareholders. Perhaps what we haven't been good enough at, though, is involving everyone in the business in helping us to address these issues. We haven't listened enough to the ideas you have or really given you the scope to bring your ideas to fruition. We also haven't been clear enough in making the link between the business goals and the contribution which everyone can make towards

I see this as a most exciting challenge for 1997! It is my sincere intention that during next year we will make the business vision goals and values clear to everyone. We will also create an environment where everyone knows what they have to do to help us achieve that vision – and in doing so make working life more fulfilling for us all.

achieving them.

In order to demonstrate my commitment to this intent (and to show that I have been listening to you!) I plan to make a presentation to all of you early in the new year, to explain face to face the challenges ahead and how I value your support in conquering these challenges.

We are also planning a Company Open Day in the Summer so we can all share our pride in our business with our families (another sign that I am listening!).

So, we can look back on 1996, and congratulate ourselves on a good year. On behalf of myself and all the Directors, I would like to thank you for your contribution and support.

I hope you and your families have a happy and peaceful Christmas, and I look forward to sharing with you the exciting challenges of 1997.

25 Year Service Awards

On Friday 6th December, a lunch was held at the Hatherley Manor Hotel to celebrate the achievement of 25 years' service for the following people:

Irene Leake began life at Rotol as a Proficient Punch Card Operator (did we have inefficient operators too?!). Progressing to the post of Deputy D.P. Controller and later Computer Progammer, Irene now mans the help desk in our I.T. department.

Chris Staite specialised in sheet metal work from his Dowty Group apprentice days and still works in our Fabrication Shop today.

Brian Jones has also been with us since he joined as an apprentice on 1 September 1971. Brian currently works as a machinist for Medium Landing Gear.

Brian Butler, also an apprentice in 1971, soon moved to the Methods

Office after a short period as a machinist. In the late 70's he progressed to the position of Jig & Tool Draughtsman and eventually to Senior NC Methods Engineer during which time he was instrumental to the start up of Montreal. He currently works as a Manufacturing Engineer for Large Landing Gear.

Michael Roberts was also a craft apprentice for the Group in 1971. A Centre Lathe Turner and then a Jig Mill Setter/Operator, Michael currently works in Medium Landing Gear.

Michael Durrant and Edward Marr have also achieved 25 years' service, but were unable to attend the lunch.

Michael Durrant, a fitter in Large Landing Gear Assembly joined us on 6th September 1971 and has previously worked in No 1 Assembly, Repair and Experimental.

Edward Marr, machinist in Medium Landing Gear joined us on the centre lathes back on 22 March 1971. "May not stay long" suggest his original interviewer's notes...! (Happy to see you proved H.R. wrong!).

Business Improvement Projects Launched

Three project teams have been formed during December to address areas which are key to our business.

The projects and their objectives

Manage Programmes

- improve programme management techniques.
- ensure programmes provide the right product with focus on cost, quality and delivery.
- cover all internal operations, including development, build to print, support of mature products, and interfaces with both customers and suppliers.

Manage Programme team led by Derek Shiells

On-Time Delivery team led by Steve Gunyon

On-Time Delivery

Everyone in the Company is actually on this project team, getting:

- the right products
- to the right place
- at the right time
- with the right quality
- for the right cost.

We'll be in touch!!

Waste Elimination

- aim to eliminate waste of all types.
- identify and improve processes that are inconsistent and unreliable.
- reduce warranty costs and the number of concessions and modifications.

The teams have started meeting during December to clarify their objectives and to identify areas for improvement. This will also include the implementation of potential "quick wins".

Waste Elimination team led by Ian Perry

Keeping everyone informed of progress will be a key responsibility of the Teams. They will by examining ways of communicating progress and success including using our cascade meetings and the Link.

Caption Competition - Win a Bottle of Wine!

Every picture tells a story - but what story?

To win a bottle of wine, send your printable caption suggestions to Rachel Norfolk, HR Department, by January 10th. Our favourite caption for each picture will win a bottle of wine.

The winning captions will be published in the March edition of Link.

Looking Forward to Link '97

Next year there will be four editions of Link, issued in March, June, September and December.

We want to ensure that Link covers items which are of interest to you. Being a quarterly publication, Link does not pretend to be a "news" paper as such. Items of important, business relevant news need to be communicated quickly via cascades and noticeboards (we know even this isn't quick enough at times, and we are working at putting this right).

What Link can do is bring you items of more general interest, which are not so time sensitive. Link can bring you pictures of events, and perhaps a different angle on some of the things going on in the business.

It can also bring you an insight into some of the things that you and your colleagues do outside work, which may be of interest to others (within reason of course!). But we can only include the information which you share with us. If you want Link to report on issues which are of interest to you – let us know.

One suggestion which has been made is a births, deaths and marriages section (for both current and exemployees). So please, if you have any news, pass it on to any member of the Editorial Team.

Very many thanks to those who have contributed to Link during 1996, and a very Merry Christmas to everyone from Rachel, Pete and Louise.
